BROADWAY THEATER.

"The White Squaw."
The patrons of the Broadway theater on Thursday, Sept. 9, will have a genuine treat, witnessing that really excellent play, "The White Squaw." It has humor, it has sentiment, it has true dramatic situations, and is presented by an exceptionally clever cast, including Miss DeLoach, Miss Grace Cahill, Miss Kindie Kohman, Joseph Gilmore, Edmund Carey and William Kohman.

"The Merry Widow" Really Coming.

It is now an assured fact that on Wednesday, Sept. 15, the wonder of the age, "The Merry Widow," will pay another visit to Norwich.

Never in the history of the American stage has a musical piece been preceded by such a long and successful approval as that which has marked the advent of "The Merry Widow." In London, Vienna, Berlin, Copenhagen, Hamburg, Munich, Dresden, Leipzig, indeed everywhere it has been produced the piece went off like a bomb, and the wonderful waltz which takes its name from the title of the piece has set all the world to dancing, whistling and singing.

The scenic investiture which Mr. Savage has provided is of wondrous beauty. The three acts show the brilliant Masovian embassy in Paris; the deliciously interesting Roman story; the gaiety and riot of Maxine's restaurant.

"Paid in Full" is coming.

The Wagon and Kemper Co. will present the celebrated Eugene Walter play at the Broadway theater this evening.

"Paid in Full" is coming. The story of the world owed him its good things, and failing to get them honestly, tried to take them from the pocket of his employer. The Joe Brooks of "Paid in Full" begins to steal in the hour his young wife utters her first word in bitterness against the poverty that still then she had endured without complaint. Defeat meets him in theft as in all else. There is speedy discovery, whereupon she shows the reason for her weeks to suffer his wife to save himself from prison. There is not a moment of the play that is not absolutely interesting, not an instant that does not vibrate with power. As all the five companies in "Paid in Full" appeared in New York in the many engagements he the play that it is a New York cast that will be seen in this city.

BREED THEATER.

Among the most successful strong pictures at the Breed theater for the first part of the week is one entitled "The Slave," a brilliant portrayal of a former popular Roman maiden, who has refused the love of wealthy suitors, is seen confronted with starvation as the result of her poor artist husband being unable to sell the fruits of his labor. In the desperation of the moment she decides to sell herself as a slave maid. A peculiar coincidence is that she is purchased by a secretary of one of her wealthy admirers, and brought to his home, unknown to him. When he realizes who she is he is so filled with the fact, but upon seeing her great sorrow, makes inquiries, and finds the real cause of her offering herself for sale, whereupon he immediately releases her from her contract, and escorts her to her home, carrying with him an immense bag of gold as ransom.

All is not happiness, and she finds her child dead and her husband defamed as a result of it, but at the sight of her face the drama turns, and one of the prettiest scenes of the famous picture shows the husband with a faithful wife clasped in his arms at the window, waiting for the dawn of reason and the dawn of day.

Miss Grace Alvin, a former popular singer of the Breed in appearing again, to the delight of all, before entering the vaudeville field, where she is booked on the Kettie circuit for an indefinite period. Miss Alvin possesses a rich soprano voice, of great range, which she uses, with artistic taste, to sing the big songs, and to sing with pure quality, which is most marked in her "pretty illustrated song," "Silver Threads Among the Gold," a new song, newly to hear this old time favorite well sung, and accompanied by a set of handsome slides, beautiful concert song, which meets with abundant applause.

NEW WAY AROUND THE WORLD.

Frank C. Clark Plans Trip With Modern Comforts for Tourists.

It has long been realized by transportation companies and touring agencies that with the proper transportation facilities Round the World travel would be greatly popular.

An itinerary of surprising interest has been prepared by Mr. Frank C. Clark, embodying every point to tour in has been allowed for stops. The charter controls the steamer for the entire voyage, and the company which arranged his own itinerary. It is not necessary to await the infrequent sailings of local steamers, and such a route includes many places that are in reach of the ordinary traveler, unless he be willing to tramp steamer or sailing vessels.

All will not return to New York at the same time, however, as the management offers them the option of stopping over in Europe several months, a feature that will be especially attractive to those who want to visit Ober-Ammergau and the Passion Play, or possibly motor through the Continent.

It is gratifying to know that it has remained for an American to show a new way Around the World, and sure in his laudable enterprise he is entitled to and will have the best wishes or success from all his countrymen.
